GUN CLUB MEETING

At a well attended meeting of the Mirror Gun Club held in Duttman & Johnson's store Monday night the following business was transacted. In the absence of the president Mr. Robinson was asked to take the chair.

A letter from G. A. Calvert resigning from the office of president was read and on motion same was accepted.

It was moved by E. E. Estell, and seconded by A. E. Johnson that Geo. Robinson be president of the Mirror Gun Club for one year.—Carried.

Committee appointed at last meeting to interview the Village Council, reported that he interviewed each member separately and that they said they could positively not allow the gun club to shoot within Village limits.

The field captain was instructed to arrange a match at Basslaw for May 24th. Teams to consist of not more than five men to shoot single birds at unknown angles.

There was yet a number who have to be interviewed, but sufficient names have been secured to warrant the holding of a meeting to organize a club. This meeting will be held in the school house, on Wednesday evening, May 21st, at 8 o'clock sharp, when the election of officers and general business will be transacted.

The object of the club as set forth in the prospectus is to bring Mirror's advantages before the public as a summer resort and incidentally to give the citizens an opportunity to enjoy boating on Buffalo Lake. The objects are enumerated as follows:

1 To give the residents of Mirror to co-operate in building a landing stage and boat house and to purchase boats and the necessary equipment.

2 To encourage boating and other water sports.

3 To give the members of the club and the general public a chance to indulge in boating, fishing, &c. without the expense

PROPOSED BOAT CLUB WELL SUPPORTED

The prospects for forming a boat club in Mirror have assumed a very rosy hue, and the promoters, after a canvass of the town have succeeded in getting twenty-five of the residents to sign their names to a document in support of the undertaking.

There are yet a number who have to be interviewed, but sufficient names have been secured to warrant the holding of a meeting to organize a club. This meeting will be held in the school house, on Wednesday evening, May 21st, at 8 o'clock sharp, when the election of officers and general business will be transacted.

The object of the club as set forth in the prospectus is to bring Mirror's advantages before the public as a summer resort and incidentally to give the citizens an opportunity to enjoy boating on Buffalo Lake. The objects are enumerated as follows:

1 To give the residents of Mirror to co-operate in building a landing stage and boat house and to purchase boats and the necessary equipment.

2 To encourage boating and other water sports.

3 To give the members of the club and the general public a chance to indulge in boating, fishing, &c. without the expense of buying and maintaining private boats.

4 To have the club's property looked after by a paid caretaker who will be responsible for repairs, routing of boats and such other work as will be conducive to the comfort of members and visitors.

5 To bring to the notice of travellers, visitors and people living at outside points the natural advantages that Mirror possesses as a summer resort.

6 To provide boats for outing, fishing and shooting parties on Buffalo Lake at a moderate charge.

The proposed membership fee has been placed at $10, with a monthly assessment of 50c. The following have signified their willingness to support the scheme—Geo. Robinson, Hans Kiesel, Geo. D. EX-SULTAN'S OPINION OF WOMEN
 Turkish Woman His Ideal of What the Fair Sex Should Be Like

Berlin, Germany.—Further interesting monographs of Abdul Hamid, the present ex-sultan of Turkey, are published in the March number of Nord und Sud. By the courtesy of Professor Langemann, the editor, I am able to give the following extracts:
 The memoirs deal principally with religious and moral questions. Abdul Hamid was in the habit every day during the long reign of dictating to some thirty ministers his private thoughts on the subjects of the day and the present publication is taken from this work. The memoirs have been translated from the original into German by Herr Hans Bolheimer, the Turkish consul in Berlin. Speaking of the status of women, the ex-sultan says: Every man who has sense will do plenty with me that women are given too much freedom, that they rule the salons, and are soon to walk about the streets, while men are slowly drifting to be their servants. I understand this is the case in America. Why do European nations must not learn from the Turkish women not prettier and more moral than others.
 In our country the woman belongs to the husband, and belongs to one man alone. In Europe she has much too much freedom to remain a woman at all. If only half I have read in books and newspapers about womanhood in the west is true—will I pity the western men!
 The former sultan appears to have been favorable to some reforms being introduced in Turkey, but these reforms were not carried out. He was not in favor of young Turks going abroad for any length of time, he feared so much as the poison of European civilization. He was of the idea that came from the west. They are most dangerous for our country. When I see how happy our Moslems are, I feel I must oppose with all my power the coming of the European new spirit. This spirit poisons our souls and it is our duty to be unfavorable to progress, but any progress must come from within, not from without.
 Dealing with the present conditions of Islam, Abdul Hamid states: The Koran preaches virtue more effectively than any other religious work. Therefore Islam will in time be victorious in the world. Our trouble comes from the fact that our empire does not constitute a religious unity. We have too many different religions. Only evil can be expected from the fact that more than one religion reigns in one country. Look what happens in Germany!
 The salvation of Turkey can only be in deep religious belief. Therefore our future must be Islam. France, Russia are in my hands. One word from my lips will suffice to open a holy war (Tehdidat). Then Christianism will be exterminated. I have not come yet, but it is bound to come when Allah will. The Jews of the Diaspora—80,000,000 living in British colonies, India, Persia, etc. Two hundred and fifty millions are every day Allah and the Khalifa. Can one really think that the Khalifa is a weak instrument in the concert of nations?
 This rather belittling statement is immediately followed by some thoughts about tolerance in Turkey, which, according to the ex-sultan's opinion, is far greater there than anywhere else. He bitterly criticizes the young officials who condemn everything that is done in Turkey. These young pessimists are our worst enemies he says. Thanks to my secret police, I know exactly where they are to be found. Thanks Allah our good people are free from these official sowers of discontent. A real Moslem is always an optimist. The ex-sultan expresses his opinion on slavery as follows:
 I have just received a petition from the anti-slavery congress asking me to suppress slavery in Turkey. I am surprised to see how little Europe knows about our country and its institutions. How can the paternalistic relationship existing here between masters and servants be called slavery?
 The Koran compels us to treat our servants well. Our laws adequately protect the latter against any abuse of power in the hands of their masters. There is no slavery in my empire. A dervish (mail servant) in Turkey is happier than a maid in Europe. Why curse the slave merchants? They only secure servants for a certain time.
 Many an abandoned child, dying of hunger in the street, has found its salvation at the hands of these so-called slave-merchants. Many girls have found good positions in families by the aid of them and some even have been married by parents.
 STATE HORSES FOR SALE
 Motorcars Substituted by New President of France
 Paris.—President Poincaré has modernized the stable of the Elysee. He has come to the conclusion that in these days of motorcars there is no sense in spending the taxpayers' money on the upkeep of horses, old-fashioned carriages and expensive coachmen.
 He has given orders for the sale of all the horses, except four in the stables of the Elysee, has dismissed the coachmen, Trotter, who on other occasions, drove the presidential car, with outriders, and then other gentlemen and stable hands.
 The new horses which are to be kept will very rarely be used by M. Poincaré himself. They are for his pleasure principally. It is not impossible that Mme. Poincaré may ride in the Bois de St. Cloud to Paris society not to let riding drop out of fashion.
 Milkmaids in Switzerland make hundreds of faces that really set off for $6 a piece—some indeed for as much as $100 each.

 MRS. E. J. TALBOT TELLS THEM TO FIND A CURE IN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

She Had Rheumatism, Lumbago, and Neuralgia and Found the Remedy She Was Looking for in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

 These are the words of Mrs. E. J. Talbot who resides at 223 Wellington street north this city. And Mrs. Talbot speaks out of her own experience.

"Last July I was very sick," Mrs. Talbot continues. "My heart beat 144 m. my limbs were heavy, and I was unable to get out of bed. I was suffering from rheumatism, lumbago, and neuralgia and I called in did not help me. Finally decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I have used seven boxes and I feel so much stronger and better that I feel I must recommend them to others.
 Mrs. Talbot's complication of troubles all came from sick kidneys. The way Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her. For Dodd's Kidney Pills are not a secret. They simply cure any kidney disease of any kind. They never fail to do that.

You're a Brick
 In the golden days of Greece an ambassador once came from Sparta, and was shown by the king the walls of Sparta.
 Sir, he exclaimed, I have visited nearly all the towns in the world, but find no walls for their defense. Why is this?
 Indeed, the king replied, you cannot have looked carefully. Come with me tomorrow and I will show you the walls of Sparta.
 On the following morning the king led his guest out upon the plain, where his army was drawn up in battle array, and pointing proudly to the valiant soldiers, he said: "There you have seen the walls of Sparta—every man a brick."
 The majority of umbrellas there are borrowed is dispensed.

CENSUS COMPARISONS

Census statistics for the prairie province opens up a field for some interesting and instructive comparisons. During the last census decade the rural population of Manitoba increased from 184,738 to 256,240 or at the rate of 134.1 per cent. The urban population increased from 70,473 to 300,365, or at the rate of 134.3 per cent. In the older portions of the province the increase has been almost entirely urban, one rural electoral district even showing a small decline.

In Saskatchewan, Canada's greatest wheat-producing province, and in which the most marked advance in population was made, the rural population increased during the census decade from 73,720 to 361,067, or at the rate of 380.7 per cent. At the same time the urban population increased from 17,550 to 131,365 or at the rate of 648.5 per cent. No fewer than 211 new towns and villages were incorporated in Saskatchewan during the census decade.

Alberta shows rural increase from 52,380 to 232,720 which is a percentage increase of 344.1. The urban population increased from 20,023 to 141,937, or a percentage increase of 388.2. In all, 82 new towns and villages were organized in Alberta during the census decade just closed.

These three provinces show a total rural increase of 538,170, or 93.6 per cent. of the rural increase for the whole Dominion. The urban increase was 365,021, making a total of 903,197, or almost half the total increase recorded for the whole of Canada. The centre of population has, therefore, taken a decided move westward.

In view of the fact that vast areas of land are still to be opened up it is probable that the next census will show further great gains in the rural population. But it is significant that the urban population is growing with much greater rapidity than is the rural. Further, the specialized form in which agriculture is carried on in the prairie provinces is certain to have an important bearing on the movement of population. Many western farmers are of the nomadic type. Their methods of farming make them such. Specialization in agriculture as it is practiced in the west must inevitably lead to soil depletion. The valuable wheat producing constituents of the soil are being steadily mined, and it is only a matter of time till nothing is left but "wheat sick" soil, which is largely devoid of humus and other plant material. Already Manitoba has thousands of acres of abandoned lands as a direct result of over-specialization.

It would be well if the farmer would remember that specialization in any industry is only permanently possible where the supply of raw material is unlimited. Moreover, where a degree of industrial specialization is engaged in without adequate care being taken to utilize the by-products there is sure to be very serious waste. Indeed, the modern captain of industry is frequently as much concerned in seeing that the by products are turned to good account, as he is in supervising the manufacture of his staple product. And the farmer must be equally business-like if his work is to be permanent.

NO TIME FOR FADISTS

A Denver paper prints this: No man who lives on meat was ever known to kick his wife or ask for a divorce. Adam got into a row right off because he had no hog meat, butter or black bass. Napoleon lost Waterloo because the allied forces had bacon for breakfast the morning of the fight. The French had vegetable soup. No war can be successfully waged without hog meat. Americans are the most frisky people on earth because they eat the most hog meat. A vegetable diet woman is as cold and clammy and unlovable as a turnip. If you wish to put roses in the cheeks of your girls, vitality in their every motion, and brains in their heads, feed them meat. If you want your boy to get a job and hold it, go to the front and amount to something, give him bacon grease, ham fat or tallow three times a day. The world is full of cranks who are always getting up some new fad about hay soup or corn fodder tea.

HOG RAISING A PROFITABLE BUSINESS(Continued from last week)
The beginner should study his hogs closely, becoming intimately acquainted with their habits, their likes and dislikes, learning what they need and what is bad for them.

Cheapness in production is the first point to be mastered by the beginner. In his breeding he should work for large litters, early maturity and quality. Starting with one sow, it will pay to buy a mature one that has shown that she will produce good pigs and raise eight or ten at a litter. She should have two litters a year. Cheap shelter can be made with straw, sod or boards. The beginner can watch his small lot of hogs carefully, and learn how to make them grow rapidly at least expense.

If any trouble occurs it can usually be seen in a small lot of pigs before it is past-curing. When there is a loss it cannot be heavy and the grower gets his experience cheaply.

The second year three or four of the best sows should be saved with the dams. The third the grower should have learned enough about growing hogs to be able to handle ten sows and their produce, and after that he should know enough to slowly increase his hog herd to the limit of his farm.

Cheap shelter and fences should be used until the profits from the hogs will pay for better ones. No large buildings should be erected until hogs have been grown several years on the farm and the breeder is sure of what he wants and where he needs to locate it.

Success in hog raising is determined by intelligent daily, sometimes hourly care, attention to many small details, and good judgment. When a man decides to become a hog raiser he should plan to stay permanently in the business.

Going into the hog business when the hogs are high and going out when hogs are low is not paying business. It is the farmer who stays in the business year after year who makes the money in the long run. He can improve the quality of his animals. He can gradually get around him at little expense the buildings and yards and pastures that he needs, and can plan his crops and general farm management so as to reduce the cost of raising hogs to the lowest point.

The first question every beginner asks is what is the best breed of hogs?

The breed makes little difference. Good individuals of the popular breeds, if backed by good ancestors will make money when properly handled. The best breed for you is the breed you like best. If you like red hogs, raise good Duroc-Jerseys. If you like a black and white hog with ears turning down, get a Poland-China. If your fancy turns to a black and white hog with erect ears, take Berkshire. If you want to raise bacon hogs, and you prefer white ones, get Yorkshires; or if you prefer red ones, get Tanworths. If you like a profitable hog with fancy markings get a Hampshire.

White hogs do well in the northern sections, and either Chester, Whites or Cheshires may be grown as preferred. As a rule, white hogs are not profitable in the warm climates. The intense sun blisters the skin, sometimes so badly as to cause chronic running sores. The all important point is the selection of good individuals from prolific strains and the handling of these in such a way as to make large profits.

A large litter of heavy, vigorous pigs at weaning time is the foundation of profits. To secure it, prolific sows (and the boar from a prolific strain must be selected. The boar must not be given over-service and the pregnant sows must have the feed and exercise and care that will keep her in the best of health and condition and that will produce thrifty development in the unborn pigs. At and after farrowing time the sow must be given shelter, bedding, feed and care that will carry her through this period with the least disturbance, and save all her pigs in good condition.

As the pigs gain in size and strength, the sow must be fed to develop her highest milk production, the young pigs must be taught to eat grains and other feeds before they are weaned. The weaning must be done, so that the pigs are in fit condition to shift for themselves when they leave the mother and the sows must be kept in perfect condition for suckling the next litter. These things look formidable to the beginner and he is likely to consider that the expense will be too great, but successful methods are not a matter of expense but of good judgement, skill and daily attention to little details.

Comfort reduces the cost. Good shelter is a sure way of cutting down the expense in producing hogs. Hogs require shelter that is warm in winter and cool in summer, dry, well lighted, easily cleaned and easily disinfected or moved in case of disease.

The beginner in hog raising should always provide cheap shelter. Every condition necessary for the comfort and thrift of the hog can be provided at low cost. After the grower has raised hogs for a number of years, he can, if it suits his fancy, build an elaborate hog house out of the profits the hogs have made him.

Hogs need shelter that will give them a dry place no matter what the weather. Wet sleeping and resting places are good to bring losses from pneumonia and rheumatism. No disease germ can live long when subjected to direct sunlight, and the more nearly the shelter can be planned so that direct sunlight will strike at some time during every day all parts of the interior the more can the great disinfecting power of the sun be used.

Hogs need pure air the same as do human beings, and good ventilation must be secured without a draft. A draft will cause colds, pneumonia, and kindred diseases more quickly in hogs than in any other farm animals. A sleeping hog should no more be allowed in a draft than a sleeping child. Hogs are annoyed more by wind than any other farm animal, and in windy countries shelter against wind should be furnished both in the yards and in the pastures. Shelter should be arranged to be cleaned easily and to require the least amount of labor in feeding and handling the hogs. Shelter for feeding and handling brood sows should be made so that when necessary the pigs at farrowing time may be handled without disturbing the sow.

In case of disease the shelter must be thoroughly disinfected as germs live long in cracks and corners. In disease the ground and fences must either be thoroughly disinfected or else the hogs and buildings moved to new ground.

There should be easy access from the shelter to feed lots and pastures, and as pastures should be changed frequently to prevent losses from worms and disease, the shelter should be located and built to meet this demand. During the summer the hogs in pasture should have shelter from the sun that will give good ventilation.

Knowing the requirements the hog raiser can use all his ingenuity to devise a shelter that will meet his fancy and that, while supplying all the needs of the hog and making him comfortable, will cost little.

ZAN-BUX DOES CURE PILES

Mr. C. Hanson, wife of the proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, writes: "I suffered from hemorrhoids for years. Went to doctor after doctor, but failed. Finally went to Dr. Zamboni and had an operation. Twelve months afterwards I was as well again. He says, 'One day I read about Zamboni and thought I would try it. The first one or two boxes were not much more than anything else I had tried, but I went on with the third. In a short time I began to feel altogether different and better, and I saw that Zamboni was going to cure me. Well, I went on using it, and by the time I had used six boxes I was delighted to find myself entirely cured.'"

If you suffer from this painful ailment, or from eczema, ulcers or any skin disease, don't waste time. Try Zan-Bux. 50¢. All druggists and stores.

NEW TYPE OF SUBMARINE

England-Some Designs of Vessels Capable of Crossing the Atlantic

London, England.—Naval developments of a considerable nature are taking place under the cloak of great secrecy. It is known that the British government is planning to build twelve months some astonishingly new type of submarine, but there are changes in the design. The new vessel will be more powerful than the old type, and will be able to cross the Atlantic in a short time. It is known that the British government is planning to build twelve months some astonishingly new type of submarine, but there are changes in the design. The new vessel will be more powerful than the old type, and will be able to cross the Atlantic in a short time.

The displacement of the new ships is at present a matter of secrecy; in general it is put at 1000 tons. In other words, however, it is a general agreement that the speed will not be less than twenty-five knots on the surface, which is the speed of the torpedo-boat destroyer. It is known that the new vessel will be more powerful than the old type, and will be able to cross the Atlantic in a short time.

It is not probable that the destroyer will be out of our shipbuilding yards for some time. The new vessel is at present experimental, and must remain so for a couple of years or more.

But the modifications are planned before the installation for a new kind of destroyer, plans for which may be found in the official reports in regard to the contracting for the building of warships, and may give us a full idea of the new type of ship.

A further batch of the new kind of destroyer, which Mr. Churchill will soon describe, will also be allowed for. Most of them will be laid down during the year, differing only in minor details from the ships now building.

The particulars of the design of the new battleship—or, as they will be in future come to be called, capital ships—are naturally not available for publication. There can be no doubt that they will be the most perfect of their kind, and will be the most powerful of their kind. They will be the most powerful of their kind, and will be the most powerful of their kind.

What kind of a silo will yours be?
Wood—or Concrete?
If you were to build two silos—one of wood, the other of concrete—side by side, and then could see them as they will look after five years of service, you wouldn't have to think twice before deciding which the best material would be. The wood silo wouldn't be much of the original wooden silo left—the repairing you'd have to do would be as troublesome and cost as much as the building of an entirely new one. But the passage of time, often or even twenty years will make no difference to the hard-as-rock wall of the concrete silo.

CONCRETE SILOS LAST FOREVER
WIND, rain, fire and lightning are alike defeated by concrete. You need no insurance against its destruction because it cannot be destroyed. Concrete keeps the engine at even temperature, so that "cures" better, and therefore contains more food-value for your stock.

There's Money In Raising Stock

It is unnecessary for us to try and convince the farmers in this district that there is money in raising live stock. They know it already, but what we would like you to know is that we are prepared to buy all your stock at the prevailing market price, and pay each for it.

It is a fact none can deny that the supply of cattle and hogs is not equal to the demand, and the money making possibilities in this line of the farming industry deserves the consideration of every farmer in Mirror district. This is one of the best stock raising districts in the world so take advantage of conditions and reap the benefit.

We will buy your Stock at all times of the Year.

DISTRICT : Called From Exchanges : What is Doing In The Neighboring Towns :

Alix—Dr. Shore has rented the building opposite the drug store which is being fitted up for an hospital.

Ponoka—Rev. Mr. Bracken had a double set of harness, pair of blankets, and other articles stolen from his barn on Saturday night of last week. The theft is a contemptible one and it is hoped that the guilty ones will be brought to justice. Thieving is by far too common in town, and something will have to be done in order to protect the law-abiding citizens.

Trochu—Father Lamont of Red Deer, was a visitor in the city last week.

Riley—J. S. Kavanagh, who for nearly three years managed the Globe Lumber Co's business here, will leave the latter part of this week to take charge of a yard in Medicine Hat conducted by the same company.

Trochu—A complimentary banquet will be tendered the Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture, on Monday, May 19th. Other cabinet ministers and leading members of the government have been invited to attend.

Ponoka—Farmers living up stream are making their annual complaint that the fish cannot ascend the river owing to the C.P.R. dam obstructions.

BASHAW : Board of Trade Has Enthusiastic Cath- ering : Will Celebrate May the 24th

The Bashaw and District and Buffalo Lake Amateur Athletic Association held a meeting on the evening of the 13th inst., and it was arranged to hold the sports in Bashaw on the 21st, next. It was decided to invite football, baseball and tennis teams from Mirror to oppose the local teams. A number of races for adults and children have been arranged together with jumping, etc. A Cinderella Dance for the evening will no doubt wind up a pleasant day's outing. Everybody will be welcome.

The secretary of the local Board of Trade, A. Willmott Maddison, has now started out collecting subscriptions for the Board membership. The first day out brought in $25 and no one seems to grumble at the $5.00 contribution; over forty members are on the list already.

Ralph Laurence has created wonder at Bailey & Dore's store, and business should improve as a result.

Most of the local boys are out on the trunk road and to the north of the town, and R. Williams has them bunched up the sod to make things passable to Ferintosh.

The Masonic lodge in this town is no doubt doing good work and is helping to harmonize things.

On May 8th last a largely attended meeting was held in the Masonic hall, Bashaw, under the auspices of the Bashaw and District and Buffalo Lake Board of Trade, who had arranged for Messrs. W. F. Puffer, Dr. Campbell and Geo. P. Smith, the representatives of the Lacombe, Ponoka and Camrose constituencies, to meet the farmers with a view to having certain roads and bridges attended to, which connected the outlying portion of the district with Bashaw. Farmers and townspeople were punctual in attendance at 3 p.m., when the president of the board opened the meeting by suggesting that certain memorials pertaining to the road question be dealt with.

After considerable discussion regarding the road leading to the Tristram district, Messrs. Puffer and Dr. Campbell promised to give every attention to the matter and if possible have the road completed this year. In respect to this road a private memorial signed by Alfred Hopkins, D. S. Forester and six other farmers promising $150 in work on the road, if the Government would do their part, was read by the secretary of the board and created quite an impression not only on the attendance but also satisfied the members of parliament present that the district meant business.

Mr. Smith replying to the Manfred memorial promised every possible help, as he fully believed their demands were just and equitable.

The eastern portion of the township line was found to not require attention this year.

The minutes of the last Board of Trade meeting were now put in and read, and the meeting thrown open to discussion, the visiting M. P. E.'s each taking advantage of this occasion to speak regarding the publicity campaign undertaken by the board.

Alix—Wm. Kraft left Friday morning of last week for Ontario. He will visit Toronto, Galt and other points, after which he will take a trip to the U.S. It is 31 years since he left the old home for B.C. and this is his first trip back. He will be absent about six weeks.

Killam—About 80% of the seedling is finished in the Killam district. It will soon be time to get ready for harvest.

Geo. P. Smith in a twenty-minute speech eulogized the scheme and advised everybody to join in and stay right with it, as he thought it had been started the right way and would prove a real success.

Dr. Campbell said that Mr. Smith had left little for him to say but still he was convinced that every farmer should do his utmost to make the scheme successful, as the farmer stood to reap many advantages under its auspices.

W. F. Puffer was pleased to add a further quota by stating that in his opinion the scheme was sound and good and it was up to farmers and townsmen alike to work shoulder to shoulder and push the object for all its worth, and the results would be in his estimation, he estimated, Mr. Puffer considered the advisory board to consist of farmers elected for their several portions of the district a splendid idea, and the boards really office was also excellent in as much that intending purchasers of land in this district would be sure to get a square deal. As regards the dividing up the commission from sales of land by the boards office, he thought that the official of the board managing the realty office, the farmer on the advisory board, and the treasury fund were undoubtedly each entitled to his estimation be according.
